Throughout the four years spent at Emmaus High School, many memorable occasions have materialized. It is the objective of the Tattler Staff through an editorial and pictorial means to bring forth to the reader the school life of the year 1950-51.

Seniors, as you page through this Twenty-Ninth Edition of the Tattler remember that it now has a new significance. Heretofore, it has been just another annual, but this one is different—you are part of it.

Board of School Directors

To these seven men goes the responsibility of executing the innumerable tasks involved in the supervision of the schools of Emmaus. It is they who lay the ground work necessary for the education of the men and women of tomorrow.

The Board of School Directors is subject to regulations by the State, and its duties are definitely outlined by a school code. Collectively, their duties concern not only the supervision of school activities, but also matters concerning finances, buildings, grounds, supplies, and curriculum.

At their meetings, which are held the first Thursday of the month at the high school, they bring their business and professional experience to help solve the problems coincident with running a school system. Attorney Theodore R. Gardner, the school solicitor, executes all legal documents and renders legal advice to the Board.

To these men, whom the townspeople have elected, we give our sincere thanks for their time and effort in order that we may have a better education.

MISS LESTER

MRS. GUTH

Administration Secretaries

"Gerry" and "Pat" are the well-liked and efficient administration secretaries. They do all the clerical work, operate the telephone switchboard, and maintain the student records. In addition to their office duties they sell tickets, make bus reservations, handle class funds, and render messenger service. Always pleasant and cheerful, these two young ladies have been of great help to us.

To the Class of 1951:

You have arrived at that point in life where you will either continue your education in some higher institution of learning, or go out into the ever broadening horizons of life's duties, hopes and accomplishments.

You will not have to be a great figure, or a state or national leader to make your influence felt. It is the common people who have made real contributions in the world's struggle for social improvement. We do not know what the morrow will bring but we do know that it will not be exactly as it is today. You may not think of something completely new, but you may at least think of many ways of improving what we already have.

Do not become bewildered because of the confusion among leaders. This has always been the case since the origin of our republic. We believe in discussion and in majority rule. At no time has there been such a demand for intelligent and emotional stability.

HOWARD J. YEAGER

HOWARD J. YEAGER, B.A., M.A.
Superintendent of Schools

The Administrators

TO MR. HOWARD J. YEAGER, Superintendent of Schools for the past nineteen years, goes the responsibility of executing the school board's recommendations and the supervision of the borough schools. He is responsible for the maintenance of the high quality and standard of the Emmaus schools through the years. He has carefully planned the curriculum for each school and has selected an excellent faculty to teach it.

TO MR. ALLEN F. HELLER, Principal for the past twenty-four years, goes the responsibility for the supervision of all curricula and extracurricular activities in the high school. His effort to help those who seek his advice has made our principal widely known for the intelligent and just handling of student problems. The administration is to be commended for its effort, which resulted in the accreditation of the high school by the Commission on Secondary Schools and its acceptance as a member of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

ALLEN F. HELLER, B.S.
Principal

To the Class of 1951:

High school days are over and we have entered a troubled world, clouded by strife, ideologies, intolerance, and selfishness.

You have studied under adverse conditions. Our facilities have been inadequate, world affairs have not been encouraging, but we have high hopes for those of you who are prepared to make the most of opportunities as they appear.

Our most precious possession is liberty. We may speak freely, gather in assemblies, worship as we please, do work of our choice, and vote for our officials. Government is our servant, not our master. No sacrifice, no price is too high for the preservation of our way of life.

If liberty is to be preserved, religious, moral, and political progress must keep pace with science. Leaders must put God first - country above party, others above self. May you be such leaders and may all your dreams and hopes for a successful future come true.

Class History

When the class of '51 entered high school, few realized our potentialities in the scholastic, social, dramatic, and athletic fields. Our class was separated, two sections were in the Lincoln Junior High School and three in the High School. After a general pushing around by the upper-classmen, we all settled down to a full schedule of studying. Our only diversion was to plan for our Freshman Minstrel, and on the nights of February 13 and 14, the "Country Style Shindig" was presented. It was a grand success and showed the abilities and talents of our class. May 14, 1948, the "Spring Swing" was held, our first and only social event of the year. The term ended with everyone looking forward to their sophomore year.

Returning to Emmaus High in fall, we were fewer in number, but so much wiser. More socially inclined, we held two dances. The first one, the "Green and Gold Hop," was held December 4, 1948. Probably no one will ever forget the orchestra, "The Jolly Four," or the gaily decorated gym. We now began to take an interest in high school functions and at the end of the year we supplied cheerleaders and colour guards. Our second dance, "The Springtime Frolic," was held May 14, 1949, and brought an end to the affairs of the sophomore class.

And now we were Juniors! "The Bal L'Automne," our first dance of the year was held on the night of November 5. Our decorating committee did a wonderful job for the dance, and for the first time, supplied a stage for the orchestra. The annual Junior Declamation Contest was held on May 4, 1950, and was won by Barbara Jean Kline. Other contestants were Willard Stratz and Rodney Fenstermaker. In spring, our eagerly awaited Junior Prom, the biggest social affair of the year, was held April 21, at the Frolics Ballroom in Allentown. The Ballroom was beautifully decorated in our class colors, green and white, and hundreds of pink carnations adorned the wishing well, the entrance, and the royal thrones. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen, Donald Andrews and Ann Reinsmith. Bud Rader's Orchestra gave the final touch to what was acclaimed the most successful social function of our school career. To climax the year and as a farewell to the class of 1950 we sponsored the "Senior Farewell."

The steps to the senior class are gradual and true, but finally we arrived, and at last the cares and joys of being seniors were ours. Of course we now had many of our boys and girls taking part in every phase of school life. We immediately began to choose committees and the cast for that never-to-be-forgotten event, the Senior Class Play. "January Thaw," a fast moving comedy, was presented three nights, November 16, 17, 18, and had everyone in a whirl for weeks. Then, November 24, 1950, we held the "Sadie Hawkins Dance." The gym was decorated with funny papers and corn-cob pipes were presented to all of the couples attending. It was a gay night and the gym echoed with laughter. Following this we held the dance "Christmas Capers" on December 21, which attracted many students and alumni. Shortly after the Easter vacation, on April 4, we sponsored our last school dance in the gym, the "Spring Swing."

During the remaining months of school we took field trips to the State Hospital, County Jail, and the Court House, which proved very interesting and educational. And at last, the best social event of the year, the Senior Ball which was held at the Brookside Country Club on June 1, 1951. Then came the serious Baccalaureate Service and the thrill and sadness of Commencement. And so ended four wonderful years spent at Emmaus High School for 110 students.

Alma Mater

As we plod through life's road steeping
Climbing up those rocky hills,
We will ever hold in keeping
Thoughts of these dear wisdom mills.

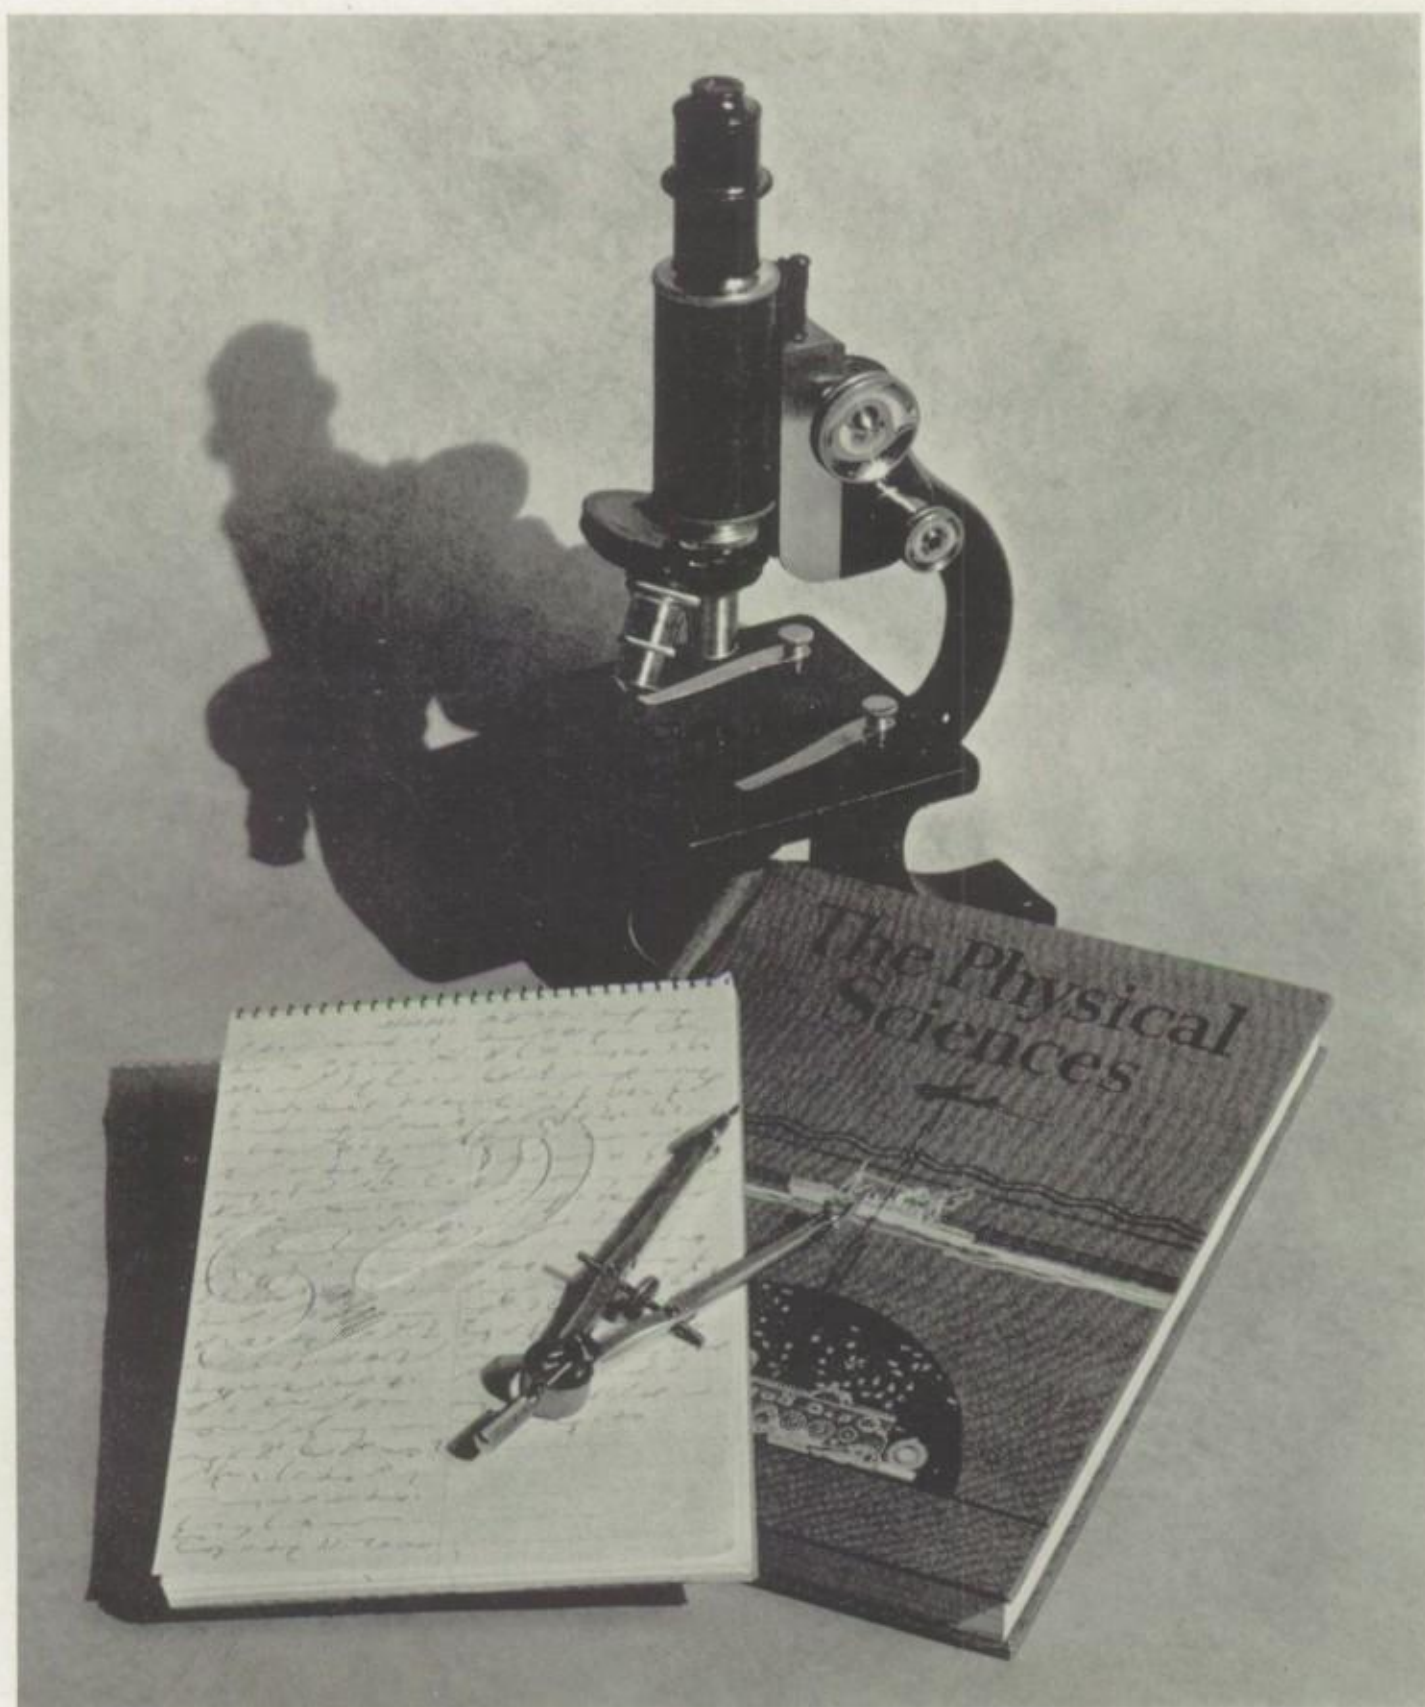

Hear these silent stone walls shouting
Hear their words of would-be woe
Hear them plead with hopes and doubting
Hear them tell us not to go.

Gone is our gay "learned" company,
Gone those days which are of yore;
Much we did in rooms now empty
Things we'll do and see no more.

Chorus:

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
Hear our song of thanks to thee!
Hold in keeping joy and weeping,
Hold our blessed memory.

Junior Class

The capability and uniqueness of the Junior Class can well be illustrated by their three social functions of the year. The first, "Junior Jamboree," was successfully launched on November 4. Fortune telling, a cider garden, a bake and white elephant sale, and a game room were some of the features open to the public, making it an entirely different affair. After a complete sell-out, a dance was held in the gym.

On March 6, the Junior Declamation Contest was held in which June Arnold took top honors. The high spot of the year was the Junior Prom, held at the Lehigh Country Club on April 20. Their last social function was the memorable "Senior Farewell," held at the Owls Home on June 6.

These 137 Juniors, wearing their cardinal and gray colors, with a yellow tea rose in their lapel, are well qualified to take over the leadership of Emmaus High School.

Sophomore Class

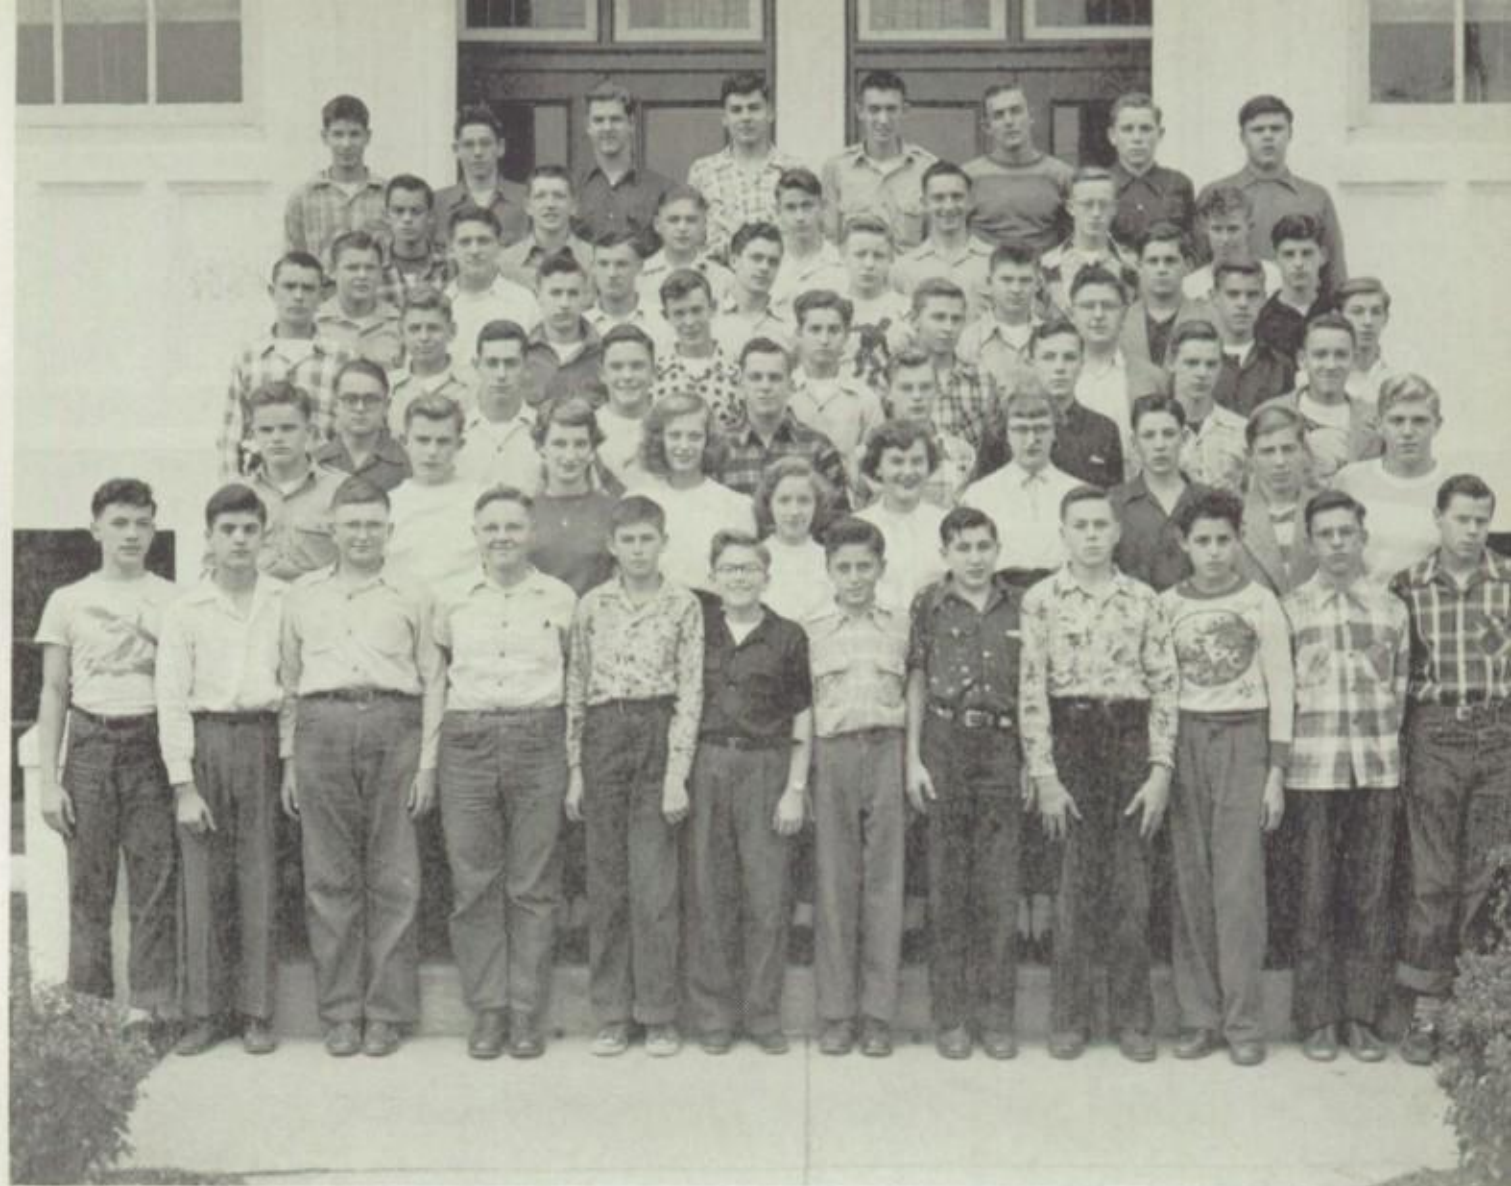

The class of 1953 began the year with the special privilege of initiating the unlucky "Frosh" with vengeance, remembering their distasteful experiences a year ago.

Looking back to their freshman year, these ambitious sophomores endeavored to make this year even more successful. They opened the social season on February 24 with a dance, the "Starlight Whirl." Libby Guinta and his Orchestra provided the music for this enjoyable affair which was held in the gym. The second dance was held on May 5 and was equally successful. Thus ended their social activities for the year.

Having contributed much to the social and sports events, these 184 sophomores are looking forward with high hopes to returning next fall and taking over the position of exalted Juniors.

The talent of the class was ably displayed in the annual Freshman Minstrel, "Night and Day," held on February 2 and 3. It was a great success judging by the attendance and the appreciation of the audience. In Spring they proudly sponsored a dance, their only social activity of the year, held on May 19.

Class of 1951 Junior Prom

Bud Rader's orchestra provided the music for the annual Junior Prom which was held at the Frolics Ballroom in Allentown on April 21, 1950. The Ballroom was trimmed in green and white, the class colors, with pink carnations, the class flower, scattered profusely about the room. An added attraction was a Wishing Well, which was very popular among the guests. The big event of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen and to the music of "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody," Kathryn Kershner, Queen of the Class of 1950, crowned Donald Andrews and Ann Reinsmith. Their court consisted of Julia Lazor, Martha Shoemaker, Jeanette Reinhard, Janet Koze, Donald Miller, Richard Gerhart, Harold Bittenbender, and Martin Ondrovic. After four hours of enjoyable dancing, the couples visited their favorite restaurants for a late lunch.

Our Schools

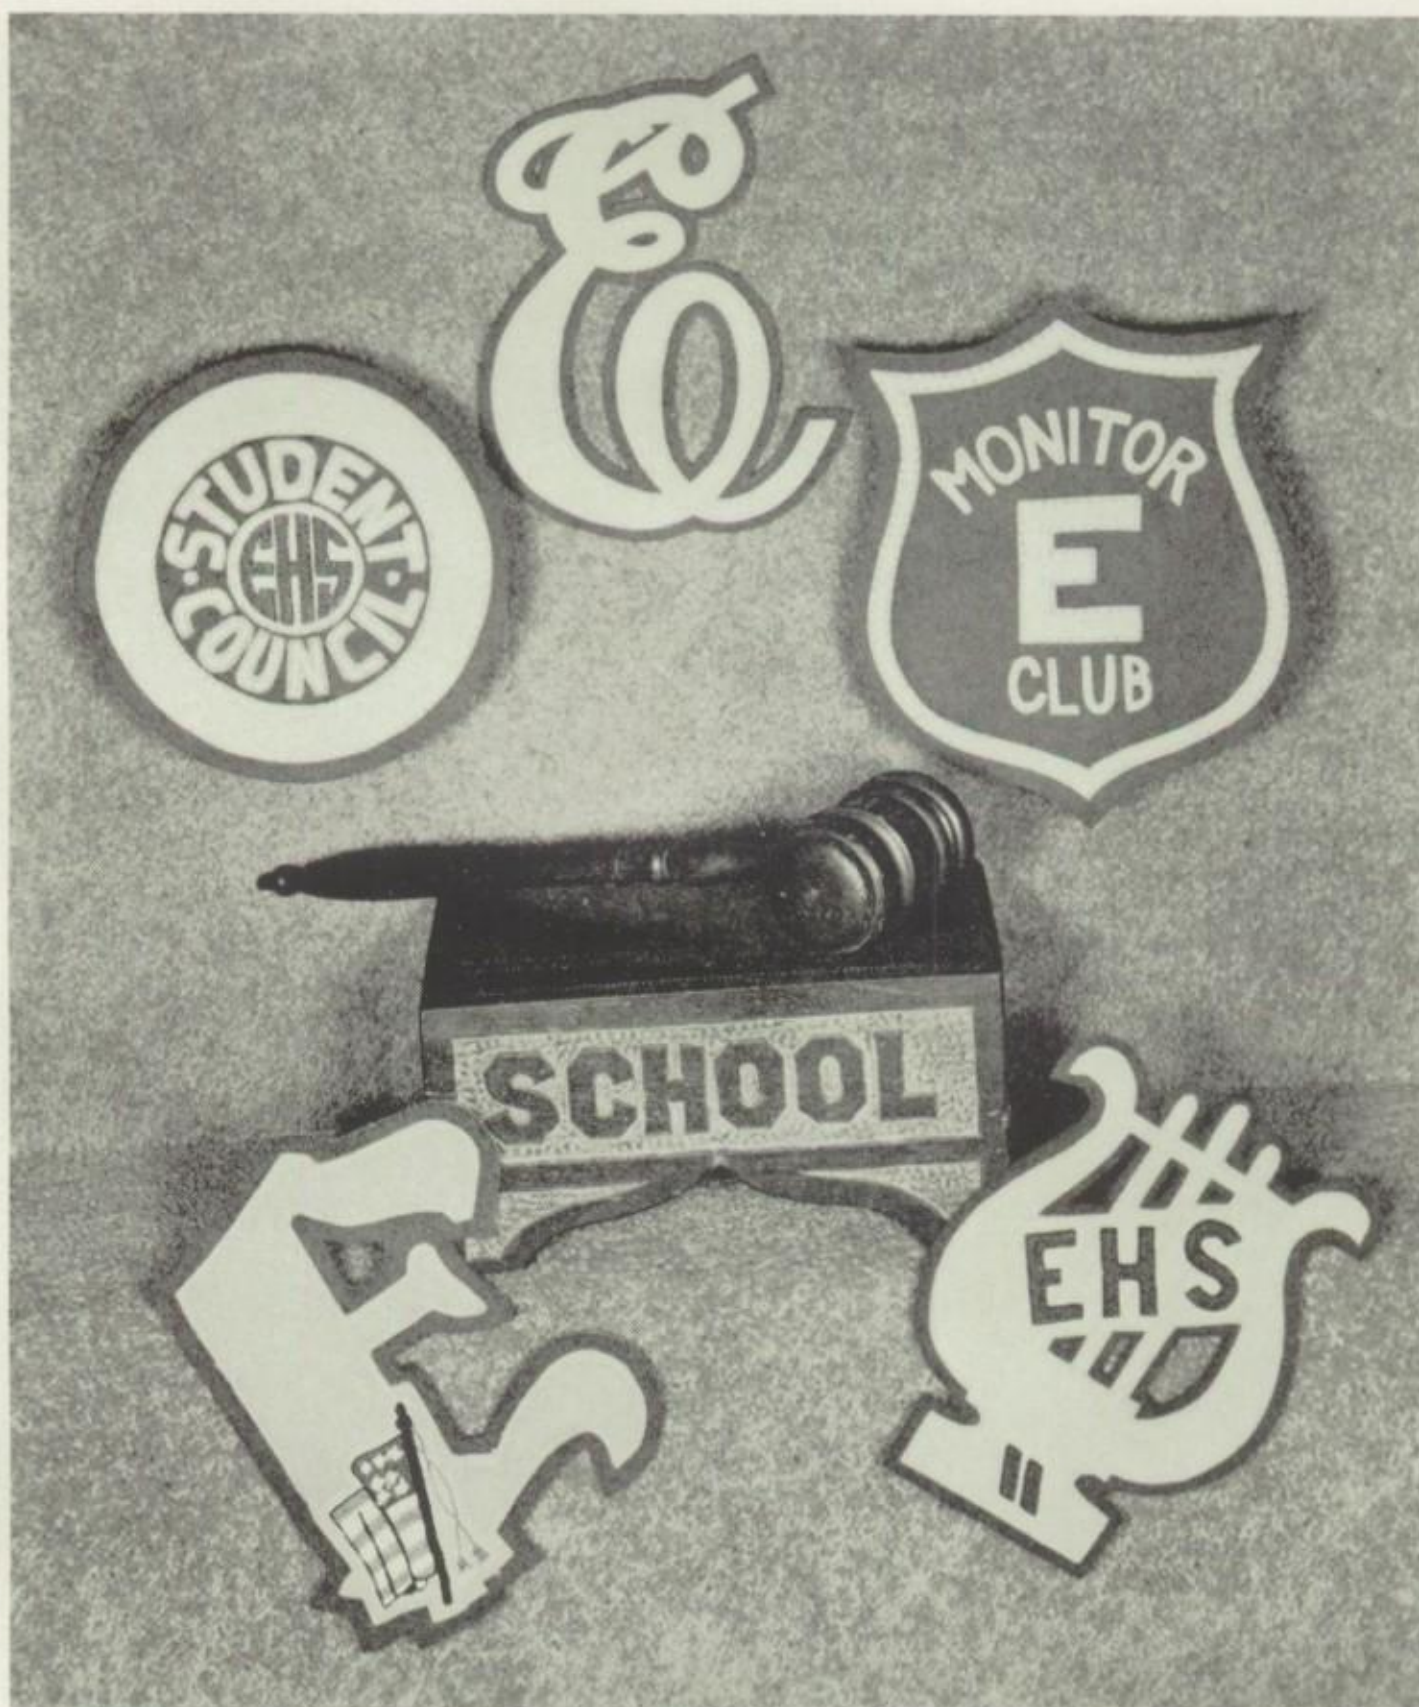

At present the Thaddeus Stevens, Central, and Washington Buildings are serving the community as elementary schools, while the Lincoln and Jefferson Buildings are serving the borough as Junior and Senior High Schools, respectively. A brief history in the development of our schools is that in 1891 the Central Building on Ridge Street was erected and enlarged in 1898. In 1910, an eight room building was erected on Broad Street and named the Washington Building. The Jefferson Building was erected on North Street in 1914 and due to the continual growth in borough population it was enlarged on several occasions. The auditorium and west wing were added in 1925 and the east wing in 1926. The Lincoln Building was erected on Seem Street in 1928 and the Thaddeus Stevens Building on Pennsylvania Avenue in 1929.

THE TATTLER

The Staff had two goals in editing this yearbook, THE TATTLER. Since the average person notices only two things about any yearbook—its beauty in general and his own pictures in particular—our aims were to make this yearbook as beautiful and artistic an annual as our finances would permit and to picture every student at least once, either in a group or individually.

Using the best yearbook models, we tried to build an annual of which the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-one may be proud. Our book followed no definite theme but instead wove into its pages the idea of school as a community, working, living, learning, and growing together.

Thirty seniors, under the guidance of Mr. Paul Frantz, have worked diligently during study periods, club periods, and after school, and voluntarily discontinued other extra curricular activities in order to make this the twenty-ninth edition of THE TATTLER, their last successful venture.

Hi Jeff

A staff of twenty-eight young people representing every class of the school keep the rest of the student body informed of everything that takes place in the school environment. Besides this, the members of the club receive training in writing news items, feature stories, and sports articles. They ferret out bits of humor and discover individuals engaged in interesting specialties and hobbies. They learn how to make up a page according to good newspaper practice.

All in all, an excellent opportunity is offered aspirants to learn practically every phase of newspaper publication. Two years of faithful work entitle the staff to an additional award, a beautiful script school "E".

Student Council

Two representatives from each homeroom comprise the governing body of the school. This group gave the students an opportunity to voice their opinions on school problems, to suggest possible improvements in the school system, to create a better understanding between pupils and teachers, and to guide and to encourage self discipline of the students. The latter is accomplish-ed by the Board of Judges, composed of Student Council and Monitor Club members, who acts as a court on school violations by reviewing the cases and deciding upon a suitable punishment.

The council furnishes the students with lyceum programs, feature movies, and the noontime dances. They also annually sponsor a trip to the United Nations.

This past year the Emmaus Student Council had the privilege of being host to the Tri-County Student Council Conference. Approximately 300 students attended in order to discuss various problems and activities.

Emblems are given to members and gold pins to senior members.

Monitor Club

The law enforcing branch of our school, composed of twenty Seniors and twenty Juniors selected in their Sophomore year, is the Monitor Club. The purpose of this club is to direct traffic in and about school according to the rules and regulations set up by the Student Council. Their duties are: the direction of traffic in halls, the supervision of lunch lines, and the noon-time dances in the gym. Pupils who break laws are reported by the Monitors to the Board of Judges.

The officers of the club consist of a Captain, Lieutenant, and a Secretary. The Captain presides at all the meetings, which are held weekly. In case of absence of the Captain the Lieutenant takes charge of the meetings. Minutes of the previous meetings are read by the Secretary and roll call is taken. At these meetings the members discuss methods to keep laws enforced and also other problems which may face the club.

The Colour Guards and Majorettes performing

Band, Majorettes, and Colour Guards

BAND—Through the untiring efforts of the Director, Band Club, and the Band members themselves, our High School Band has developed into the largest and most capable musical organization ever to represent E.H.S.

Their stellar performances at the football games, four Hallowe'en parades, Memorial parade, and the Christmas party at Town Hall, delighted even the most critical. The climax of the long hours of rehearsal was the splendid performance of the Band in their annual Spring Concert in April.

In February they were the guests of the Band Club at the Eastern District Band Festival in Bethlehem, in which two of our members participated. As a reward for their efforts, the members of the Band were treated to a fine banquet as guests of the Band Club at the Owls Home. At this time emblems were distributed and senior awards were presented to the six members who were lost through graduation.

MAJORETTES—Forward, march! Off they go, gaily twirling their batons with perfect coordination. Our six high-stepping majorettes and the tumbler, Christine Clauser added zest and sparkle to the high school marching organization. These girls spent many long, tedious hours of practice in order to achieve their goal of making a dazzling performance at all football games and parades.

COLOUR GUARDS—Six stunning young ladies guarded and protected our country's and school's flags. These smartly uniformed girls strutted with a martial air in front of the band to lend an air of snap and precision to the scene.

Chorus

The largest musical organization in our school was the chorus of mixed voices, which was directed by Mr. Errol K. Peters. During the year the chorus presented several selections for assembly programs which were enjoyed by the faculty and student body.

The outstanding performance of the year was the operetta "Words and Music" which was presented in the Emmaus High School Auditorium on March 10 and 11. The scenes took place at Barton College, a small school for select young ladies and gentlemen. A calamity arose when the classical minded Deans, portrayed by Nancy Lichtenwalner and Kenneth Brobst, attempted to write Barton's annual operetta in a modern vein. Everything ended well as the operetta was finally written by two students portrayed by Julia Lazor and Rodney Fenstermaker.

The chorus also participated in the Spring Concert. It was a very interesting and delightful program and at this time the annual Senior Music Scholarship was awarded by Mr. Peters.

Freshman Minstrel

A unique and original minstrel was presented February 2 and 3 by the Freshman class. The show was built around the theme "Night and Day." A city skyline, sharply etched against a beautifully colored sky, provided a gorgeous backdrop for the program which was based entirely on the contrast between night and day.

The debonair master of ceremonies, Thomas Ruddell, bantered with the rollicking ends and introduced the talented soloists. A capable chorus and orchestra provided the musical background for the varied numbers consisting of cowboy, "blues," and comedy vocal solos. Also featured were instrumentalists, ballet, tap, and acrobatic dances. An impressive dance impersonation of "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" was performed by Nina Brahler, Mary Lou Clewell, and Mary Ellen Reinsmith. The ends were Joanne Mintz, Constance Garman, LaRue Gordon, Merritt Stephen, Robert Minnich, and Bruce Bear. An enthusiastic ovation was received from the large and appreciative audience.

Girls' Glee Club

In our Christmas assembly program we suddenly heard the melodious voices of the Glee Club as they slowly made their way down the aisle in a beautiful candelite procession. Our classmates will always remember the chirping voices coming from the balcony each Tuesday morning as the girls faithfully rehearsed for assembly programs, operetta, and the annual Spring Concert.

Boys' Glee Club

Here we have an organization of enthusiastic young fellows who practiced long hours to perfect their harmony. The club provided a popular diversion from the long hours of study. They participated in the Thanksgiving and other special assembly programs, the operetta "Words and Music", and brought their successful season to a close by performing in the Spring Concert.

These talented musicians have endeavored to become an instrumental organization by performing in assembly programs, the Spring Concert, the Operetta, and Commencement. In recent years individual members have won honors for their Alma Mater by gaining participation in the District and All-State Festivals. April 12, 13, 14, our orchestra proved an able host to the Eastern District PMEA Orchestra Festival.

Dance Orchestra

This group of versatile performers, under the student direction of Arnel Wetzels, furnished a repertoire of both "sweet and hot" numbers at many school functions, the District Orchestra Dance in the gym, and a WSAN radio broadcast. Its main accomplishment for the season was providing a polished background for the singers and dancing artists in the Freshman minstrel, "Night and Day."

Arts and Crafts Club

Students who are artistically inclined, although not art majors, exploit their talents and follow their hobbies in the Arts and Crafts Club. Leathercraft, oil painting, designs, and ceramics, including the latest fad of figurine painting, are some of the many activities carried on by the club.

Dramatics Club

A group of young people learned producing, directing, and staging of plays, with special consideration of the problems of gesture, make-up, and sound effects. A committee appointed at each club meeting assumed the responsibility for the scheduled production. Another committee made an evaluation of each performance. A general discussion followed.

Knitting Club

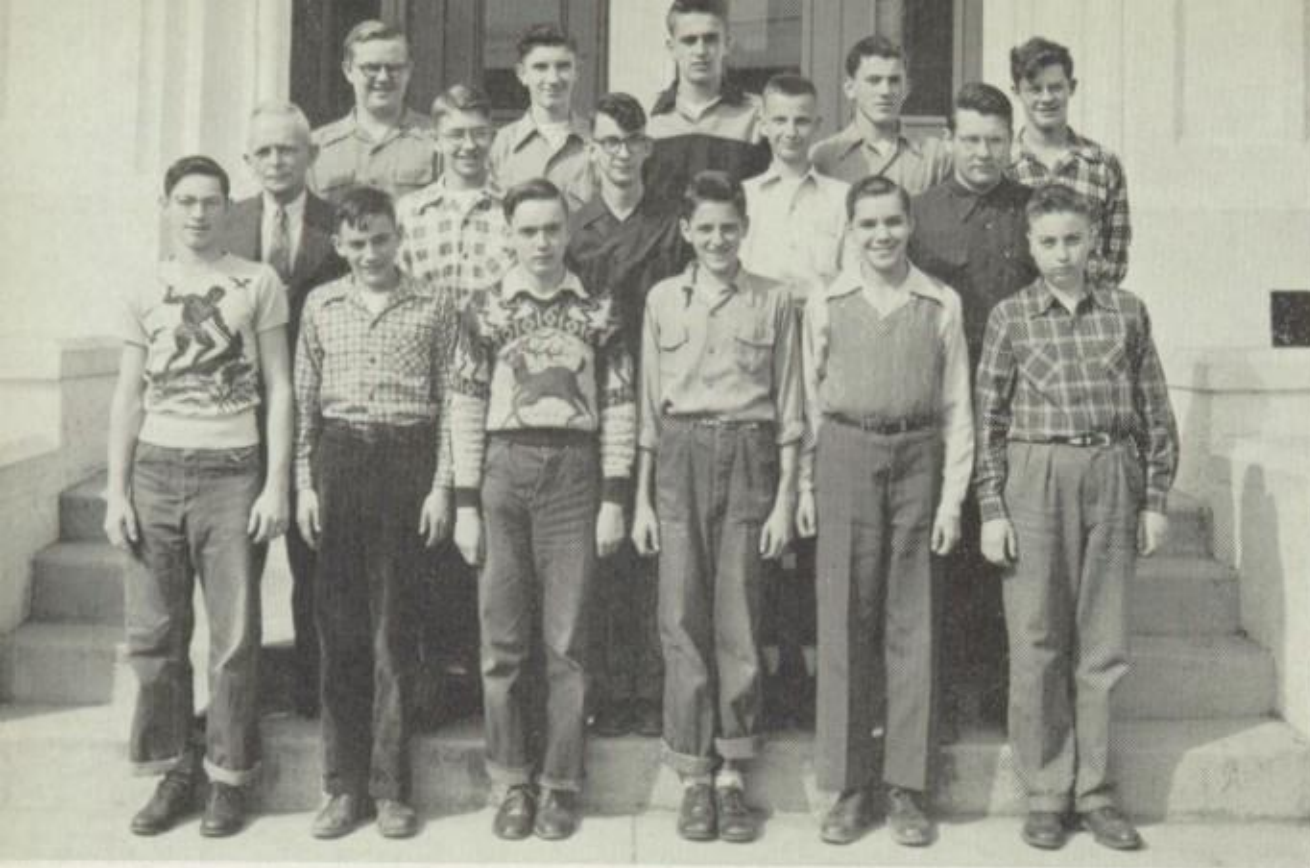

This club was organized for the purpose of teaching high school girls to knit, crochet, embroider, and to increase the knowledge of those already experienced in these arts. These girls made many knitting projects as Christmas gifts and for their own use while they talked over the "news" of the day.

Industrial Arts Club

To satisfy a hidden interest of woodworking and leather-craft among the girls as well as the boys of our school was the purpose in the formation of this club. Included in their work during the year was the designing and making leather belts, key cases, and little cedar chests that could be used as handkerchief, or jewel boxes.

Nature Study Club

The purpose of organizing this club was to acquaint the members with the wonders of nature. Field trips were taken when wild flowers, weeds, trees, birds, and other things of interest were observed. The characteristics and habits of birds were discussed and the members learned to recognize them with the use of colored lantern slides and charts.

Conservation and Wild Life Club

Planning a reforestation program to help conserve our natural resources was one of the many activities undertaken by these nature enthusiasts. A trip was made to the zoo and the Museum of Natural History in Philadelphia. A program, presented by Mr. Roy Trexler of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, helped them to better understand wild life problems.

Home Nursing Club

This club consisted of girls especially interested in health and nursing the sick. These girls learned to apply practical nursing skills in caring for self, their families, and to promote healthier conditions at home and in their community. The girls learned to care for the sick, the bathing and care of a baby, and the fundamentals of first aid.

Tri-Hi-Y Club

The Tri-Hi-Y Club, an affiliate of the Y. M. C. A., is an organization composed of high school girls. As special projects, they attended the Tri-Hi-Y convention in Easton, held a series of teen talks, took a trip to Washington, D. C. in April to see the cherry blossoms, organized Junior Red Cross gift boxes, and distributed Christmas stockings to the needy children.

Cafeteria

Receiving valuable experience in planning, cooking and serving delicious meals, also using latest kitchen equipment, these Junior and Senior girls met every day in our cafeteria to prepare and serve the meals to the students and teachers. The girls are kept busy drying dishes and cleaning up the cafeteria after they serve the meals.

Chefs' Club

This all male club, eager to learn the fundamentals of cooking, disregarded the old saying, "the woman reigns in the kitchen." Their aim is to follow any recipe and have it turn out according to their wishes. Besides cooking, they also had movies on table service, manners, and the finer techniques in cooking.

Library Club

The charming atmosphere and attractive displays found in the library can be attributed to the efforts of the girls in the Library Club. Beginning as Freshmen, these girls help the librarian by shelving, stamping, and mending books and magazines. If, by their Junior year, they have accumulated 100 hours or 1,000 points they are entitled to a gold Library Club pin.

Debating and Reading Club

Nine pupils, interested in local and international affairs, met to debate current problems each club period. Chosen topics were discussed in a formal debate and then argued at a round-table session. The club's objective was to develop the ability to present thoughts clearly and convincingly because the art of public expression is a valuable asset.

Girls' Athletic Club

To develop poise, balance, coordination, and interest in gymnastics in its members was the chief purpose of organizing this club. In the spring and fall of the year they had track meets and softball games. The girls participated in tumbling and gymnastics, which after being mastered, were skillfully displayed in the annual Gym Exhibition held in spring.

Boys' Gymnastic Club

Developing coordination, balance, and mobility of the body was the sole purpose of organizing this club. During club periods these ambitious boys were active in gymnastics on parallel bars, calisthenics, jumping, diving, and tumbling. After mastering these features the members displayed their accomplishments by participating in the annual Gym Exhibition.

Scabbard and Blade Club

Since the world is again in a turmoil and much emphasis put on military training, these students realized the seriousness of the situation and took an active interest in the armed forces. They acquainted themselves with drilling routine, military courtesy, and discipline. They also learned the mechanics, use, and care of small weapons.

Varsity "E" Club

This group, made up of letter winners in all sports, had a well filled year. They sold gloves and sweat shirts, also sponsored dances and the Emmaus Faculty vs. Slatington Faculty basketball game to secure funds for sweaters given to all Senior members. Discussions at meetings centered about athletics with the object of improving the rules and regulations.

Typing Club

This club was organized for those students who did not have the opportunity to take a course in typewriting during their regularly scheduled classes. The main idea was to learn the keyboard and the basic fundamentals of typing. Artistic typing was done during the holiday seasons to introduce this type of work.

Chess and Checkers Club

Delving into the game of the ancients, many of our students found pleasure and an interesting pastime in our Chess and Checkers Club. Two of the most cosmopolitan games, their activities require deep concentration, patience, and strategy. Tournaments in both of these games were arranged to cultivate interest and sportsmanship.

Junior Glee Club

A new club organized this year was the Mixed Junior Glee Club, consisting of Freshmen, who had two meetings monthly. At these meetings the president took charge of entertainment which usually featured vocal, instrumental, and choral selections. One of the club's functions was the Freshman Minstrel which proved to be quite a success.

Cheerleaders Add Color to Games

Many times during football and basketball seasons our teams were cheered on to victory by our peppy cheerleaders.

The girls began their work last spring when three sophomores, Jan Sachs, "Jackie" Boyer and Carol Schwar, were chosen to replace the three seniors who were to graduate. They joined with the experienced cheerleaders, Ann Reinsmith, Janet Koze, and Jeanette Reinhard, to form our cheering squad.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Kerr, they held many long practice sessions in which they created new cheers and worked for perfect coordination and rhythm.

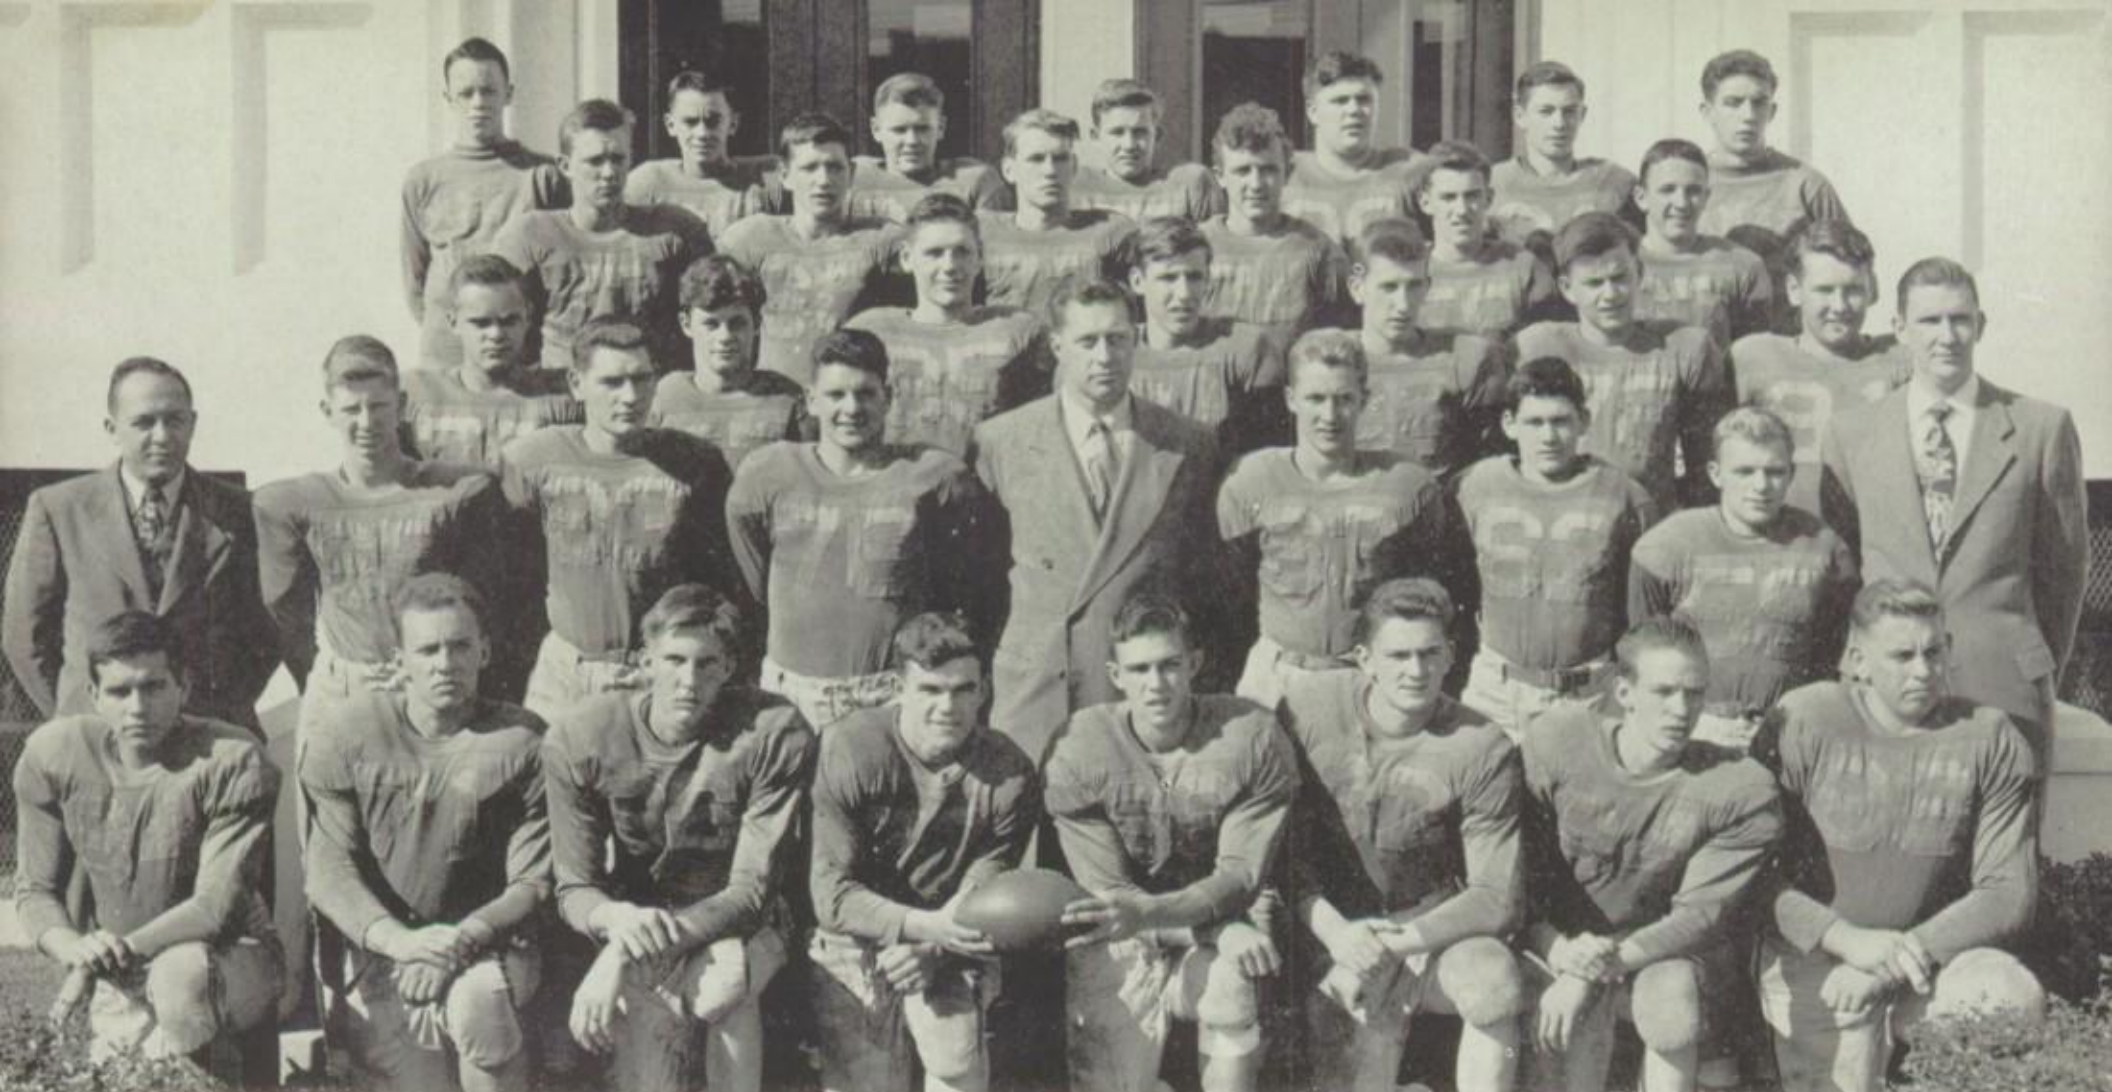

Dressed in their snappy new uniforms, which consisted of yellow slip-over sweaters, pleated green skirts, and dickeys to match their skirts, the girls were admired wherever they went.

Gridiron Men Establish Mediocre Record

The old cry "Hit them hard!" was heard on the day of August 18, when our Green and Gold gridiron men started to round out a smooth working machine. Turning back to the '49 season, the splendid record of seven wins and three losses plus second place in the Lehigh Valley League is recalled. For this year's ball club, it was a challenge to prove that they could up-hold that fine record. Coach Luke Lobb had five returning lettermen around which to form a nucleus.

With the little experience on hand and the many injuries sustained during the season, the team had to settle for a five won and five lost record.

After the first contest, under the lights, things looked brighter than expected. For the first time in four years Emmaus defeated Muhlenberg Township, by the overwhelming score of 32-7. Continuing with the same vim and vigor, the team performed magnificently before its home folks and on September 23 won the first league game by the score of 26-0 from a strong Stroudsburg team. By this time the custom of being shoved aside by Northampton seemed to disappear among the squad members. However, an unexpected powerhouse proved differently and sent our boys home with a 58-0 lacing.

Coming back to the homegrounds, an undefeated Slatington team invaded and was turned back by the score of 12-6. The following week our boys traveled to Catasauqua and looked good in defeating an aggressive outfit, 26-7.

Losing ground as the season rolled on, our team fought hard to defeat a scrappy Lehigh team and win the annual Booster Game on October 21. The decision went to us by a 21-12 count, and the entire student body capitalized on this victory by having a holiday the following Monday. Once again on the road, they traveled to Palmerton, hoping to keep the winning streak intact. The Bombers thought differently and outrushed the Hornets for a 12-7. decision. Playing in the mud, a fine Nazareth team, which was unbeaten, laid the third defeat to our Hornets by whipping them, 13-0. With strong rivalry showing up the following week, our boys were again turned back. This time it was East Greenville, for the first time since 1939, by a surprising 32-12 score.

Finally, the day came when the seniors performed for the last time, in the annual Turkey Day clash which was played at Whitehall High School. Battling on even terms most of the way, the Hornets finally lost out, 20-12.

J.V.'s Possess Power and Speed for Future

To this squad goes the responsibility of grooming football men for our future varsity teams. Under the tutelage of Mr. Leibensperger, and assisted by seniors Earl Smith and Kenny Nicholas, our young gridiron men established a record of two wins and two losses.

Our juniors had a difficult time getting started and bowed in their first contest to Muhlenberg Township on the home grounds by a 9 to 0 score. On October 16, our J.V.'s rebounded and pushed aside an aggressive Catasauqua team by the score of 21-0. Traveling to Central Catholic, for their one and only game away from home, the second loss of the season was tagged on by a 13-6 count. Meeting Central Catholic as the opposition for the second time, our juveniles, showing great improvement, evened the series and their season's record with a convincing 14-12 score.
